

Bringing data and technology together for insurance providers to reduce fraud and deliver significant pricing advantages.

Industry leading solutions that are flexible, easy to use and driven by real-time data.

Percayso's data enrichment hub instantly collects data from leading sources. And then the intelligence apps bring that data to life.

By combining data with technology, we help the insurance industry flexibly manage, manipulate, test and deploy data, strategies, rules and models in real-time and into live deployment.

Connects to all the major distribution points to access robust complete data.

Insurance industry leader* in fraud technology.

What's included in our leading fraud technology solution:

Data Enrichment

Access multi-layered data sources via data hub and single API call. You'll get your hands on the right data instantly to improve speed to market and connect and link multiple data points to understand and minimise risk. We also use it to power all of Percayso's intelligent apps.

Quote Intelligence

Draw data from our industry wide quote lake on consumer quote behaviour to test and update your data strategies at any time. Built with flexible, low-code modules and features to extract value from high volume, real-time data enrichment and reduce fraud.

Vehicle Intelligence

Access real-time data from the largest UK vehicle database to turn multiple, complex vehicle data sources into tangible insights. Just like the Financial Ombudsman Service, our customers use Percayso Vehicle Intelligence to write better business and settle claims fairly.

Property Intelligence

Access and extract property and policyholder data to turn multiple, complex property data sources into tangible insights. Our property solution will help you gain complete view and understanding of all the present risks to price accurately and reduce

Bureau Intelligence

Built to extract value from high volume real-time data enrichment, insurance providers add Bureau Intelligence to their Percayso solution to access full private credit bureau data from multiple sources. Gain the information you need across the insurance value chain to quote for customers confidently.

Evaluate

Build your business case to turn data into intelligence, insights and outcomes. Our Percayso experts run the Evaluate service as a one-off analysis to showcase the incremental value uplift using market leading data sets and strategies that maximise deployment of best-in-class data.

Partnerships

Who you work with matters. Our data partnerships bring the right people and businesses together to reduce fraud and deliver significant pricing advantages.
